Gem Of The Highlands

Among Norwood's most valued assets is its safe and secure environment. Norwood residents and businesses enjoy excellent police and fire protection, a quick responding paramedic service and close proximity to emergency medical facilities.

Police

Police protection is provided around the clock by a force of 47 highly trained officers and 16 E-911 dispatchers. With a ratio of 15 police personnel per square mile and rapid response, Norwood enjoys a low crime rate and a high level of security.

Through its participation in the computerized Regional Crime Information Center (R.C.I.C.), Norwood's Police Department has direct access to all available data and information from the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification (BCI), the Law Enforcement Automated Data System (LEADS), and the National Crime Information Center (NCIC).

Norwood's commitment to leadership and excellence in law enforcement starts with a commitment to training and community involvement. Norwood Police Officers utilize both the Norwood Police Academy and outside sources for in-service training. In 1996, the Norwood

Fire

Norwood residents and businesses enjoy a high level of life safety services provided by the Norwood Fire Department. Fire protection and paramedic services are provided on a 24-hour basis by 46 full-time professional firefighters. The Norwood Fire Department maintains one of the highest ISO ratings in the State of Ohio (Class 3), resulting in low insurance rates for Norwood businesses.

Norwood's Paramedic Service was among the first to provide around the clock emergency medical services with fully trained and certified paramedics and emergency medical technicians. Norwood's paramedics respond to an average of 3,300 EMS calls per year.

The Comprehensive Action Plan for the City of Norwood, Ohio

Adopted October, 2002

Norwood's recently adopted Comprehensive Action Plan represents the culmination of nearly three years of work, beginning with a committee of city officials, then a community survey, a community steering team, and a series of public meetings and displays. But, the Plan does not represent the end of the planning process. Rather, the Plan is an Action Plan, meaning that the document lays out specific actions needed over the next several years to keep Norwood on the path to the desired future.

Your help is needed to realize the full vision for the community--task force leaders are needed! Please look over the list of recommended task forces listed below and volunteer to head one or participate. Currently, the only active task force is the Zoning Update Task Force, but if support is out there, any of the others could be activated. For more information on any of the task force goals, see the full Comprehensive Action Plan document on-line or at the Norwood Branch Library. Volunteer today! Call or email the Planning Director, 458-4515.

northern suburb of Cincinnati, Norwood's development has been strongly influenced by its location within the Cincinnati metropolitan market.

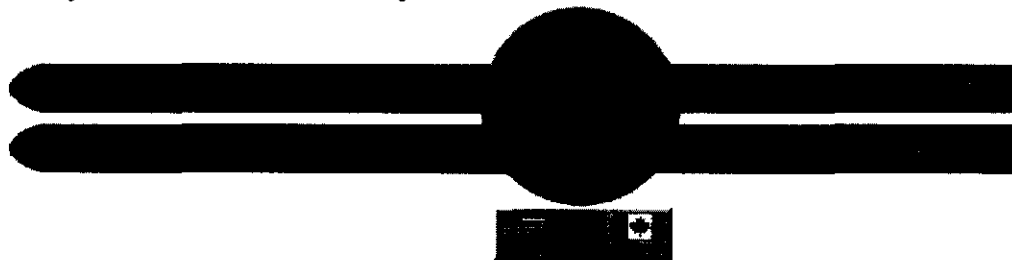

As Cincinnati's border expanded through growth and annexation, Norwood opted to retain its independence and self-governance. As a result, Norwood became an enclave city, totally surrounded by the City of Cincinnati. Norwood's distinction as an independent suburban community within a major metropolitan city continues to offer a unique blend of advantages for Norwood's residents and businesses.

Educational Resources

Special features of the Norwood School System include:

- A Fully equipped Television Studio and Media Center connecting all school buildings via closed circuit cable system
- A fully equipped Planetarium
- A fully equipped Business Department with a "state-of-the-art" Computer Science Program A Creative and Performing Arts Department. A variety of extra-curricular activities

Schools

The Norwood City School District serves the educational needs of some 3,900 students. More than half of the teaching staff have master's degrees or better, and the average length of teaching experience is 17 years. The school system has six schools including a senior high, middle school, and four elementary schools. The per pupil expenditure in the district exceeds $6,500 annually. Norwood's City School District is especially proud of its pupil-teacher ratio of 24 to 1.

In addition to its excellent public school system, the community's educational needs are further met by two excellent parochial schools. Norwood Baptist Christian School serves grades K through 12. Holy Trinity Catholic Elementary School serves grades 1 through 8. Purcell-Marian High School of Cincinnati offers Catholic high school education for Norwood parishioners.

Two of the nation's finest universities are also located in close proximity, with Xavier University on Norwood's western border and the University of Cincinnati just 4 miles away. The College of Mount St. Joseph, Northern Kentucky University, Thomas More College and Miami University at Oxford are also with easy commuting distance.

Libraries

The Norwood Public Library contains over 20,000 volumes and is constantly expanding to meet the increasing needs of the community. Year-round programs for children and an extensive collection of records, tapes and films are among the services offered at the Library.

The Environment For Living: A Great Place To Live, Work And Shop

In the midst of its metropolitan surroundings, Norwood has maintained that unique community atmosphere in which citizens share a common identity, a mutual respect and a sincere concern for their neighbors and their neighborhoods. Norwood's harmonious blend of residential, industrial, commercial and recreational areas makes this an especially livable community where families find an exceptional quality of life - a good place to live, work and shop.

Population

Norwood is the second largest city in Hamilton County with a 1990 population of 23,674. A total population of 81,000 reside within a 2 mile radius of Norwood, 365,000 within 5 miles, 925,000 within 10 miles and 1,227,171 within 15 miles.

Norwood is in the center of a total population base of 1,401,491 residing in the Cincinnati S.M.S.A. (Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area). More than three million people live within a 90 mile radius of Norwood and Greater Cincinnati making this area the 15th largest 90-minute market in the United States.

Housing

With more than 10,000 dwelling units, Norwood's housing stock offers alternatives for every taste: from stately older homes to newer subdivisions and modern apartment buildings. Norwood's quiet residential neighborhoods offer families a secure living environment. Well maintained homes on tree-lined streets are commonplace. Property values in Norwood have remained stable, yet affordably within reach of middle-class family budgets. The stability, affordability and quality of Norwood's housing stock, combined with the City's quality schools, excellent public services and low taxes, makes owning a home in this community a good value and a sound investment.

Shopping

As one of 39 branches of the Public Library of Cincinnati and Hamilton County, the Norwood Library has access to more than 3 million additional volumes, periodicals and research documents.

Norwood shoppers enjoy a wide range of shopping alternatives in and around Norwood. Rookwood Pavilion, Surrey Square Mall, Grande Central Station, Norwood Plaza Shopping Center, the Norwood Central Business District and neighborhood shops provide residents with selection and variety at competitive prices in the convenience of their own community. In addition, over 100 shopping centers, including regional malls, plazas and department stores are located within a 30 minute drive of Norwood.

Community Organizations

Norwood is an active community with its residents participating in a variety of social, civic and service organizations. The Chamber of Commerce, Business and Professional Women's Club, Kiwanis Club, Moose Lodge, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Knights of Columbus, Mnrwdnic Lodge, American Legion, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts all have active chapters in Norwood. In addition, the Highland Gems Club provides activities for the community's senior citizen population.

Over thirty churches are located in Norwood representing the Roman Catholic and Protestant traditions. Fifteen of those churches are active participants in the Norwood Ministerial Association and all provide church-oriented activities for their congregations.

Sporting Attractions

With Cinergy Field, Paul Brown Stadium and the University of Cincinnati less than five miles away, Norwood is just minutes from the excitement of professional baseball's Cincinnati Reds, pro football's Cincinnati Bengals and college basketball's University of Cincinnati Bearcats. Xavier University's Cintas Center, a newly developed convocation center and home of the Xavier Musketeers basketball team, lies on Norwood's southwest border. Cincinnati Gardens, home of the Mighty Ducks hockey team and venue for numerous concerts, sporting events and exhibits, is less than one mile north of Norwood.

Norwood's own Shea Stadium provides a multi-purpose complex for a variety of local high school sporting events as well as regional competitions. This modern facility serves as home for both Norwood and Purcell-Marian football teams.

Parks And Recreation

Recreational opportunities abound for Norwood's residents and work force. The City's park system maintains nine neighborhood parks featuring ballfields, swimming pools, tennis courts, basketball courts and picnic areas. Norwood's Recreation Commission, Community Center and YMCA offer a wide range of facilities, equipment and programs.

Norwood's recreational facilities and programs cater to the varied needs and interests of the community. Active youth baseball and soccer leagues, exciting high school sports, numerous adult softball, volleyball and basketball leagues and a full program of senior citizen center activities offer quality recreational opportunities for residents of all ages.

Recognizing the importance of preserving green space within an urban area, Norwood is constantly striving to upgrade its park system. In early 1985, Norwood acquired a 14-acre natural woodland estate for park preservation purposes. The addition of this unique nature preserve further expands quality recreational opportunities for the Norwood community.
